In addition, students from Terronez Middle School shared what activities they participate in and why they love attending Terronez.

HEAR Report from Interim Superintendent
• Thanked Michael Casserly and Robert Carlson from the Council of Great City Schools for coming all the way from Washington D.C. to personally recognize Fresno Unified and in particular, the fiscal teams that work daily to ensure financial stability. Led by Deputy Superintendent and Chief Financial Officer Ruthie Quinto, Nelson congratulated Ruthie,
This past Monday, Sunnyside High School students arrived to a uniquely different campus then they left on Friday -- complete with larger than life sized portraits of fellow classmates plastered on walls and staircases. The surprise “Guerilla” art project was a passionate gift of student art that took most of Saturday to complete. Led by photography teacher Tamela Ryatt, students brought the walls of Sunnyside High School to life showing that true art can live anywhere and is often seen in the eyes of one another.

Monday also marked an important day for the district’s high school seniors – college commitment day. Our comprehensive and alternative ed. high schools have been hosting “Signing Day” ceremonies, celebrating the many college and universities students will soon call home. The signing day events at each of our high schools have been homegrown efforts, ranging from small intimate ceremonies to larger events in the quad over lunch or as part of a senior awards celebration. This year, thanks to the suggestion of Trustee Cazares, we provided some additional resources to ensure this monumental moment was forever captured at every school and celebrated on a larger scale. Thank you to Campus Culture Manager Leslie Loewen and the district’s media team for supporting this year’s effort.

Interim Superintendent went on to speak about two very important events coming up – The CTE summit on Tuesday, May 9. Fresno Unified, Fresno City College and the office of the Fresno County Superintendent are invited community members, business partners, parents and students to join the first ever Career Technology Education Summit. Students will provide CTE demonstrations in nursing, therapy and rehabilitation services, construction, welding, manufacturing and automotive. The program will include open discussions about future CTE plans, needs and supports.

The second event is the Fresno Unified Scholarship Awards dinner on May 10 where 49 deserving seniors will be honored at the Golden Palace Banquet Hall as they receive scholarships totaling $61,000. Nelson thanked district employees and community partners who have donated to the Fresno Unified scholarship fund over the last eight years. Interim Superintendent also directed those interested in donating to the fund to the district website to learn more.
